Health Inequalities Training for Primary Care in South Yorkshire

Who Are We and What Do We Do?

We are Health Inequalities educators with extensive experience working in Deep End Practices across South Yorkshire. Our passion lies in teaching and addressing health inequalities within primary care. We provide comprehensive training on health inequalities to all primary care professionals in the South Yorkshire region.

Introduction to Health Inequalities Training

Exploring why it happens, who it affects, and why it matters.
Including local and national strategies to address health inequalities.

Introduction to Health Inequalities

Covers Core20PLUS5 framework
Includes case studies and practical actions to improve patient health

Tailored Training

Custom designed based on the specific inequalities experienced by your patient demographics

Our Aim is to empower you to implement practical changes that improve your patients' health. These steps can be applied at the Individual, Practice and Primary Care Network levels.

Specific Training Topics

- Healthcare for people in Inclusion Health Groups
- Trauma Informed Care in General Practice
- Quality improvement projects that aim to reduce health inequality
- Safe surgeries, inclusive registration and equitable access to general practice
- Use of interpreters in the NHS
- Awareness and recognition of modern slavery in general practice
- Trauma informed employment for NHS providers when employing people from health inclusion groups

Who is the Training aimed at?

- Clinical teams
- Non clinical teams
- Multidisciplinary teams
- Practice team
- PCN workforce
- everyone working in primary care

Training Duration and Delivery

Training can be delivered in person or online

Fairer Health for Children & Young People in South Yorkshire Conference

This conference brings people together from across health, including primary and secondary care, local authorities, academia, and the voluntary sector to spark ideas, share learning, and drive meaningful change

Together, we will explore the issues, learn from what is working well, and identify practical actions to create a more inclusive, accessible, and fairer system for all children and young people

Friday 16th October 2026

Crowne Plaza Royal Victoria Sheffield

Free to attend

Delivered in partnership between the South Yorkshire Primary Care Workforce & Training Hub and South Yorkshire Children and Young People's Alliance, Sheffield Children's NHS Foundation Trust

Fairsteps to Fairer Practice

Want to make a real difference to health inequalities in your practice, but not sure where to start?

FAIRSTEPS to Fairer Practice gives you the tools, structure and support to turn evidence into meaningful action

This bespoke, evidence-informed programme supports primary care teams to design and deliver practical, equity-generating interventions based on local population need. Using the FAIRSTEPS framework, you will develop cost-effective and sustainable solutions that improve access, experience and outcomes for the patients who need it most.

Who is it for?

Primary care clinical and managerial staff, including GPs, nurses, ACPs, practice managers, PCN clinicians and managers.

What will you achieve?

- Practical support to identify health inequalities in your population
- Guidance to design and implement evidence-based interventions
- Skills to engage patients, communities and partners effectively
- Support to deliver sustainable, system-level change
- Structured implementation of the RCGP Fairer Practice Toolkit

What does it involve?

- Eight facilitated action-learning sessions over 12 months
- Thursday afternoons (venue TBC)
